Royal Palm Chorus to be at DHCAC

The Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center will host the Royal Palm Chorus Saturday, November 14 at 8 p.m.

The chorus, a member of Sweet Adelines International, is a non-profit, educational organization dedicated to encouraging the art of barbershop singing.

They have been a part of the Palm Beaches for 38 years and have supported many charitable organizations, including an annual scholarship to music students in the area.

Within the last 10 years, the chorus has won medals at every competition, and has represented the region at three international competitions.

City looking for historic sites

The City of South Bay will be performing a historic preservation survey to identify buildings and sites that should be considered for preservation.

City Manager Lester Baird said the city will employ a consultant and city staff will assist with the project as well.

The said City Commissioner Iris Tanner was instrumental in urging that the historic survey be performed. The city has been awarded a grant from the State of Florida, Bureau of Historic Preservation for $3,700 to assist with the cost of the survey.

South Bay is betting on census recount

Officials in South Bay believe the 1990 Census figures under counted the city's population significantly. They plan to pay for a special census.

The 1990 Census data reported 3,548 people live in South Bay.

City officials feel an accurate population and housing count would allow for better prediction of the cost for delivering municipal services, and would generate additional revenues from state and federal programs which are based on population.

City Manager Lester Baird said the recount will begin in December and take approximately three weeks. The city will hire about nine workers for the census.

Anyone interested in temporary employment for the special census can pick up at application at South Bay City Hall.

Important meeting

The Everglades Restoration Council on funding for the Everglades SWIM plan will hold a public meeting Thursday, November 19 at the Belle Glade City Hall. This group will determine the fees that may be charged to residents and agricultural interests in the Glades.

This is an issue of vital importance to all property owners so everyone is encouraged to attend.

Tomorrow's voter...Rosenwald Elementary fifth grade student Johquet Parchment casts her ballot in student council elections Tuesday. Election results made Shatoya Simpson president, Jessica Summerall vice president, Shermeka Harris secretary and Loreda Lopez, treasurer.

Choices, choices...Belle Glade resident Ann Tyler casts her vote at the Belle Glade Civic Center Tuesday afternoon. Turnout was heavy locally and many voters stood in line to exercise their right to vote.

Civil unrest in South Bay prompts mayor to ask for town meeting

BY BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Staff

South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony, wants police officers to attend a sensitivity workshop.

The mayor, worried about relations between police officers and citizens after a civil disturbance three weeks ago, wants the officers to attend a town meeting so residents can talk about the problem.

Two officers were hurt trying to arrest a man for aggravated battery and assault October 24 on Palm Beach Road. A crowd of 50 to 60 gathered and some began throwing rocks and bottles at the cops.

Mayor Anthony and South Bay commissioners say they have received numerous telephone calls from concerned citizens since the incident.

"I'm very disappointed to hear about the community unrest. I don't think the officers understand the proper way to communicate," he told Police Chief Roy Humston.

"Your officers are dealing with a predominantly African-American community. We need to seek out more minority applicants for the police department," Mayor Anthony said.

Some of the participants in the civil disturbance were "bad apples," said the mayor, who added he had received calls from "upstanding citizens saying something is wrong here."

Mayor Anthony cited a recent incident wherein his own son was pulled over, taken out of the car and "patted down."

"That to me is just wrong and it's going to get worse if we don't do something," he said.

He wants the town meeting held in the next two weeks.

The mayor and commissioners agreed police officers should undergo sensitivity training before participating in a town meeting.

South Bay resident Clarissa Davis agreed a town meeting would be helpful, but felt it should be delayed long enough to get letters out to residents through the churches and youth groups.

"I think if the citizens know they are personally invited to the meeting, they will come."

She said the commissioners might not be aware that there are gangs forming in the city. "They need to be stopped now," she said.

"I don't know if we want to wait to have this meeting," said Mayor Anthony. "Things are simmering."

The Fourth Annual Grassy Waters Festival is coming up this weekend. See our complete schedule of events on page 8.

Dismissal denied in PHA Civil Rights lawsuit

It's there in black and white

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

A circuit court judge has dismissed Pahokee Housing Authority Tenants' Association president Patricia Brown's motion to dismiss four counts in a lawsuit lodged against her by former PHA employee Dallas Tyszkowski.

In a 21-page order dated October 19, Circuit Judge Richard B. Burke ruled that Mr. Tyszkowski's lawsuit, filed in May, falls within the paraeters of the Civil Rights Act of 1861, 42 U.S.C. Chapter 1985 (3).

Mr. Tyszkowski's lawsuit charges Ms. Brown and several others with violating his civil rights. He alleges he was fired from his job with the PHA because he is white, and the PHA board and its other employees are black.

Another white employee, Belinda Thompson, was fired

Arab delegate meets with locals

BY BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

Members of Belle Glade's Arab community are concerned about events in Palestine and how the Mid-east peace talks are going. They found out Monday night.

Two members of the Palestinian team who are participating peace negotiations told about 130 Arab-Americans how they are fairing with the Israelis.

There are about 50 Arab families in Belle Glade, according to Ghassab "Gus" Halum, a spokesman for the community.

He said the meeting, held at the Drawbridge Cafe, was very enlightening.

"We expressed our support to the delegates and urged them to continue with the peace process," he said.

Many of the local families are now American citizens. Mr. Halum said the first Arab family came to Belle Glade in 1968, after the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Dr. Mamdouh Al Aker, a member of the Palestinian delegation, said he would be leaving this week to go to Washington. He plans to meet with Secretary of State James Baker to discuss the peace talks. Along with him is Sharihabeel Al-Zaem, a legal adviser.

"We just wanted to come here and update the Arab community on what's happening," said Dr. Aker.

He said his concern is that the Palestinians and Israelis were given one year to negotiate their differences. That time expired October 29.

He wants the American government to get an extension on the peace talks and to put pressure on the Israelis to stop settling on the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

"All settlement should cease. They are expanding settlements, building roads, etc.," said Dr. Aker.

"We are asking the American government to intervene and actively be involved in the peace process," he said.

"We have done our utmost to show our concern and our seriousness and have taken all the steps to help the peace process start in spite of the unfair constraints and conditions imposed upon us," said Dr. Aker.

About one-third of the Palestinian community lives in the occupied territory. Dr. Aker said almost one million Palestinians are living in refugee camps and have been since 1948.

"There are another 400,000 Palestinians who used to live in the West Bank and Gaza who were expelled," he added, "and another 2,000 who have been deported as punishment."

Dr. Aker is no stranger to punishment. He was arrested at his office in March of 1991, accused of writing propaganda leaflets. He was kept in solitary confinement for 40 days.

He was deprived of sleep for 60 hours and went on a hunger strike for five days before being released on $10,000 bond.

"It was hell," he said. "But in spite of all the suffering, all the problems, we are committed to peace."

Mr. Halum said that while the Arab community in Belle Glade is concerned about what is happening in their homeland and many still own land and homes there, most would not go back to live.

"We did not leave by choice, but now, this is our homeland. We should play a more active role in local, state and national government."

"Most of us own businesses here and our children have grown up here. We are proud that we have no crime and that we are all hardworking people," he said.

Minor adjustments...Amy Prescott, brand spanking new Homecoming Queen at Glades Day School, gets a tune up from last year's queen, Stephanie Cavine. It looks as if Miss Prescott is leaving fingerprints in Miss Cavine's arm. Miss Prescott was crowned during halftime Friday night at the school's Homecoming Game. Amy may have won, but the Gators, we're said to say, were defeated. See story and more photos on page 8.

Christmas came early in South Bay...The City was given three trucks, valued at over $15,000 by U.S. Sugar this week. "U.S. Sugar regards South Bay as important as other cities around the lake," said Jerry Grace, Vice President of South Bay Growers. "We were glad to be able to do this." Shown, from left is Mr. Grace, City Manager Lester Baird and Charles Wilson, Asst. General Manager of Operations for South Bay Growers.

X marks the spot...Survivor Mike Marstad (left) and Bernie Frame drew large targets in the middle of the road on Martin Luther King Blvd. in Belle Glade last week. They said the targets are aerial beacons for an airplane that will fly over to take pictures for improvements to the street.

Child safety seat workshop held at West Technical Center

It's the law...Suzy Parham, Injury Prevention program Coordinator of Health Promotion and Education with HRS, conducted a workshop at West Technical Education Center for students who are parents of infants or small children. Approximately 30 of the students attending the workshop were given child safety seats. The law requires children be restrained in a child safety seat while riding in a car.

Suzy W. Parham, Injury Prevention program Coordinator of Health Promotion and Education with HRS, conducted a workshop at West Technical Education Center for students who are parents of infants or small children.

Vital information was presented regarding the law on the use of safety seats, followed by a presentation on what happens if small children and infants are not protected.

Mrs. Parham discussed the "Deadly Equation" i.e. Body Weight times Rate of Speed equals Pounds of Impact.

It equates that a child weighing 30 pounds, traveling at automobile at 30 miles per hour would have a weight of 900 pounds of pressure on impact if there were a head-on crash.

This could be doubled if the other vehicle was also traveling at 30 miles per hour.

Video films were used to demonstrate the consequences of car seats improperly used and the use of seats that did not meet federal safety standards.

West Tech parents actively participated in the demonstration of properly installing the safety seat in the vehicle, said Ms. Parham.

Through funding provided by the Center of Disease Control, students who are economically deprived were given a safety car seat. Ms. Parham said these seats meet the federal safety standard and are certified for use in motor vehicles. Approximately thirty students received the seats.

Following the workshop, many students expressed their appreciation. Several commented that it was the best workshop they had attended.

The law requires that all children under six must be buckled in while riding in any car, pickup truck, or van on Florida's roads regardless of where they are sitting in the vehicle.

Children through the age of three must be secured in a separate federally approved child-restraint seat.

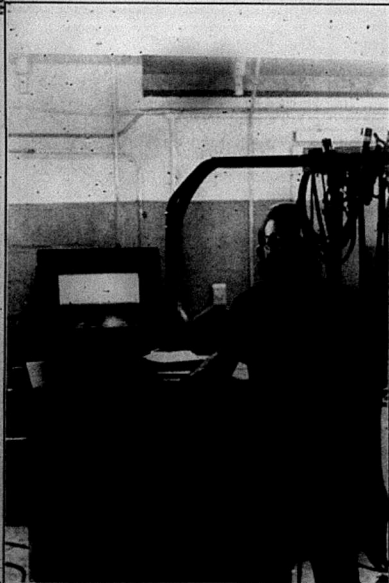

Children ages four through five must be in either a separate federally approved child-restraint seat or a seat belt. Drivers are responsible for buckling up the child.

Doing it better...Glades Ford Lincoln Mercury Service Technician Mark Testa shows off the newest diagnostic equipment at the dealership on Avenue L, Belle Glade.

Dealership gets new diagnostic equipment

Belle Glade-Glades Ford-Lincoln-Mercury has a computer that talks to your car's computer - and it talks back.

This new, computerized information and diagnostic system, which can revolutionize the way cars and trucks are serviced, has been installed at Glades Ford-Lincoln-Mercury, 525 N.W. Avenue L, Belle Glade.

Known as the Service Bay Diagnostic System (SBDS), it is expected to increase customer satisfaction by improving a dealership technician's ability to quickly and accurately diagnose and service vehicles.

"SBDS is like having one of our trained technicians with you in the car," said Thomas J. Wagner, a Ford vice president and general manager for the Ford Parts and Service Division.

"With a simple push of a button, the driver activates a portable flight recorder that electronically records information from the engine when an intermittent problem occurs. Those engine problems may be real, but they never seem to happen when you're with a technician at the dealership," he said. "This is a sophisticated machine designed to enhance the technician's ability to 'fix-right' the first time.

SBDS provides the technician with a powerful tool to help solve those pesky, recurrent problems that can occur in the base engine, electronic engine controls, ignition and fuel systems," according to Wagner. "It moves us into a new era in vehicle repair and maintenance."

Wagner said Glades-Ford-Lincoln-Mercury and dealers in the surrounding area are among more than 3,500 dealerships nationwide that will have installed the SBDS system by the end of 1993. Many dealers have ordered SBDS and are awaiting installation. SBDS can be used for diagnosis on most Ford and Lincoln-Mercury vehicles built since 1986.

"Our customers are our greatest asset," Wagner said. "SBDS is a tremendous hi-tech tool that can provide the quality service our Belle Glade-area Ford-Lincoln-Mercury owners deserve."

For customer convenience, the service department at Glades Ford-Lincoln-Mercury is also open on Saturday.

Miles and miles and miles and miles... without a chargeable or avoidable accident. Above are seven Sugar Cane Cooperative of Florida drivers who have 168 years of safe driving between them, Co-op vice-president Dale Stacy, and the Co-op's transportation superintendent, Lavon Milligan. Left to right, front row, are Willie J. Wright, 23 years; Rubin Morris, 27 years; Charlie Witchet, 22 years, and Mr. Milligan. Back row James White, 23 years; VP Stacy; Floyd Johnson, 22 years; Willie Fleming, 30 (yes, thirty) years; and Ollie Paxon, 21 years. Mr. Milligan presented Mr. Fleming with a nice watch for his 30 years of safe driving. A total of 306 drivers received awards at the Co-op's 26th annual safety seminar October 28. Eighty-seven percent of the Cooperative's drivers completed the 1991-92 season without a chargeable or avoidable accident. Last season the trucks totaled 3,906,195 miles delivering 140,688 loads of cane, or an average of 134 tons per day per truck. Each driver averaged 28,102 miles during the season. Many of the drivers worked long hours helping victims of Hurricane Andrew, said Bill Kramer, vice president and general manager.

Lawsuit

about two weeks before Mr. Tyszkowski lost his job. She also filed a complaint with the Florida Commission on Human Relations and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Lawsuits alleging racial discrimination on the job cannot be filed until an investigation is completed by EEOC.

Also named in the suit are the housing authority, the City of Pahokee, former authority board members Ester Boyd, C.

R. Martin, Winnie Guyton; interim executive director (now executive director) Julia Hale; Willie Jackson, and Ms. Brown. Mr. Tyszkowski's suit alleges Ms. Brown published a newsletter for the Tenant's Association, in which she libeled and slandered him. The newsletters implied Mr. Tyszkowski had misappropriated housing authority property, and otherwise made efforts to build mistrust and defame him, the suit says.

The board members named in the suit were removed from the board in June of this year for re-hiring ex-director Randy Mills, fired in 1986 for advancing himself more than $54,000 he said he spent trying to treat his cocaine addiction.

The board re-hired Mr. Mills in January of this year and quickly heard from Jim Chaplin, regional manager of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, who said the board should reconsider hiring Mr. Mills. The board finally fired Mr. Mills May 26, but hired him into another job. He was fired from that job in June, but continued to participate in authority decisions until HUD's Chaplin removed the board. He later reinstated board member Vera Hopson because she had voted not to re-hire Mr. Mills.

Pahokee Mayor Ramon Horta and the City Commission named David Rodriguez, Harold Howard, and Omega

Praise for Belle Glade Police Officers

Since we are always quick to criticize the police when we feel they do not perform their duties to our standards, I thought it only right to praise them when they do a great job.

I noticed the police officers were out in force Saturday night, cruising the neighborhoods and cautioning drivers to slow down because of all the trick-or-treaters.

It was reassuring to see them come down my street several times. I was worried for the children who seemed more intent on rushing from house to house than watching for cars.

I also felt better knowing the officers were keeping an eye out for vandals and pranksters. Thank you Belle Glade Police Department.

Students demonstrate bad behavior

I attended the Christian Day/Glades Day volleyball game last Thursday at Christian Day. The kids at Christian Day were so rude and cruel. Their conduct was so bad that it embarrassed me the way they were hollering and treating the Glades Day kids. I got up and moved to the Glades Day side.

I think they should teach manners and correct conduct in that school, because it is a Christian school. It's a very bad viewpoint that the people get when they go to their games for sports.

At the end of the first game, Coach McRenolds went over and spoke to the Christian Day kids. I assume about their conduct, because it did get quiet. But, before she did, some of the Christian Day School volleyball players were acting up also.

Editor's note: We spoke with Ms. McRenolds the coach at Christian Day School about this incident. Here was her response:

The kids were not rude. They were cheering while Glades Day School was serving and I went to them and said "don't cheer while they are serving. We don't want the unsportsmanship air."

But, believe me, my students were not rude. I don't put up with that.

Homeowners challenge mortgage lenders

By Robert Bernstein
Mortgage Monitor, Inc.

Thomas W. Jones of Midland, Texas, was browsing through a financial magazine when he was stopped short by a story that bank errors could be costing Americans billions of dollars a year in mortgage overcharges. Then he wondered about his own mortgage account. Was he a possible victim?

To find out, he hired a professional mortgage auditor to verify his balances and analyze the lender's past rate changes and escrow balances. The result: an overcharge was found and Jones was promptly paid a refund of several hundred dollars by his mortgage lender.

This scene is repeated daily across the country as consumers become more aware of an alarmingly high rate of errors which occur in mortgage servicing. Reports issued recently by the Federal Government's General Accounting Office (GAO) and 14 State Attorneys General document that up to 70 percent of all mortgages with escrow accounts have overcharges and the 20 to 35 percent of adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs) have been calculated incorrectly.

Several class action suits have caused major mortgage lenders to agree to refund hundreds of millions of dollars to many thousands of borrowers. Individual cases have been settled with refunds as high as $30,000.

"People balance their checkbook every month but rarely question their bank about the single largest financial commitment of their lifetime -- their mortgage," says Richard J. Roll, President of Mortgage Monitor, Inc., of Norwalk, Connecticut, which represented Mr. Jones.

"More than 50 percent of the residential mortgages we analyze contain inaccuracies, either in interest rate adjustments, escrow withholdings, private mortgage insurance or some other area. An error of just $50 a month could cost tens of thousands over the course of a loan. Now every mortgage borrower can take action to protect themselves against these overpayments," advises Roll. Federal law requires mortgage lenders to make prompt restitution for verified overcharges.

Mr. Jones used a professional audit service to analyze his mortgage, because, "I did not know how to take on a large mortgage company. They did it all for me. As I see it, the refund I received is money I would not have had otherwise."

As explained by Mr. Roll, "The complex formulas that establish monthly payments on ARMs and escrow accounts create numerous possibilities for errors. Complicating the situation is the large number of mortgages that are transferred from one lender to another either through the sale of mortgages or bank failure. Most consumers do not have the legal knowledge or technical expertise to effectively demonstrate any error to their bank."

A professional mortgage analysis can consist of an 8-10 page report indicating the overall accuracy of the lender's servicing of the account. Included are clear instructions on how to obtain any refund which may be due you. The costs can range from under $100 to several hundred dollars depending on the complexity of the mortgage.

To help homeowners determine whether they could be overpaying, Mortgage Monitor has a toll-free Consumer Helpline at 1-800-AUDIT-USA (283-4887).

The company has also published a booklet entitled, "Cash in your mortgage: The Consumer's Guide to Recovering Mortgage Overcharges."

Not so international harvester. Sugar Cane Growers' Cooperative of Florida brought no foreign workers in for this season's harvest. That's a first, says Co-op spokesman Barbara Miedema. The device above replaces about 60 H-2A workers. The Co-op has been using the mechanical harvesters for about 18 seasons, but this year marks the first time the big machines are on their own. Above, Michael Wheeler cuts a swath through a field owned by the Co-op. This is Mr. Wheeler's 18th season with the Co-op.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Nothing new here...These two machines are largely unaffected by the switch to mechanical harvesting. The device at left picks up the cut cane from the field, cuts the stalks into manageable lengths, and conveys the pieces over to the "sugar babies" being hauled by the tractor at right. A blower sends waste products out the end of the conveyor arm.

Halloween was "Spooktacular" in the Glades

Pumpkins, pumpkins, everywhere!...Grove Elementary had a pumpkin carving contest at the school last week. The competition brought out the creativity in the teachers and the display was shown in the school's cafeteria for the staff and children to enjoy.

New art & culture show on TV20

Palm Beach County's Education and Government Channel 20 will be airing a new show beginning in November that looks at the County's cultural events and activities.

Kermit Christman of the Palm Beach Shakespeare Festival and Charlotte Pelton, Marketing Services Director for the Palm Beach County Council of the Arts, have volunteered to co-host the monthly show, Center Stage.

Each show will feature a cultural event happening in the County that month and show what's going on in other Arts Council supported theatres and museums.

The first Center Stage will feature Shakespeare in the Park. Channel 20 will go behind the scenes to show viewers all the hard work that goes into preparing for a play.

Christman said he volunteered to host the show because he wants the people of Palm Beach County to know what's happening in the art and culture scene.

"We're very excited about it," Christman said. "Channel 20 is the first of the television media to promote a program specifically about art, education and the cultural quality of life in Palm Beach County."

"I personally feel the program will be a smashing success because our residents and tourists are interested in finding out what's going on in our community. And there is a lot happening."

Center Stage will air Fridays at 7:30 p.m., and other times will be listed in your TV Guide.

"At Subway, we believe that no one should go hungry, and Food For Thoughtfulness Day is a way to say thanks to our customers by helping feed those who are less fortunate in our community."

Exchange students

"Qualified high school students are offered a unique opportunity to spend an academic year or summer holiday in Scandinavia, Estonia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Spain, Mexico, Australia, New Zealand or Canada (French or English Speaking) as part of the ASSE International Student Exchange Program," announced Andrea Johnson, Southern Regional Director of ASSE.

"Until a few years ago, only a fortunate few could afford to spend a school year or summer abroad. Now, ASSE has changed all that," continued Johnson.

Students, 15 to 18 years old, qualify on the basis of academic performance, character references and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer host family in Europe, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, or Mexico.

"ASSE families abroad are carefully screened to provide a caring environment in which students can learn the language and culture of their host country," explained Johnson. Summer exchange students live with a family abroad who usually speak some English. Year students need not have learned a foreign language as part of the ASSE program.

ASSE students attend regular high school classes along with their new teenage friends. "ASSE exchange students learn by living the language and culture of their new host country," added Johnson.

The nonprofit, public benefit ASSE International Student Exchange Program is affiliated with the national Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education, and is approved by the Australian and New Zealand Departments of Education.

ASSE also provides international opportunities for families to host students from Scandinavia, Germany, France, Switzerland, Britain, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Poland, Italy, Holland, Mexico, Spain, Portugal, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and Japan.

These select students are 15 to 18 years old and will attend the local school for an academic year.

Students or families interested in more information about the ASSE program should call 1-800-473-0696 or contact: Joan Soderqvist, 8888 N.W. 1st Street, Coral Springs, FL 33071, (305)341-9389.

Glades Day Homecoming

Hani Barhoush caught a 27-yard touchdown pass, and Miles Griffin made a 24-yard run in the second quarter, but those twelve points and Pat Whitehead's two PAT kicks were all the Gators earned Friday night.

Glades Day lost to Fort Lauderdale's Westminster Academy, 19 - 14. Lions running back Nick Butler was too much, though, rushing for two TDs, and passing to Erik Wozniak for another.

The loss takes the Gators to 3 - 5, and 2 - 2 in district.

Barhoush whoosh...Glades Day's #11, Hani Barhoush, has fingers like a tree frog; the football sticks to his hands. He's seen here catching a pass near the goal line. He scored.

Raiders run up Big Bill at William T.

The Raiders couldn't wait for the halftime show Friday night, so they put on one of their own in the second quarter. Already ahead 13-6, Glades Central rang up 40 unanswered points in round two as they headed for a 74-6 overwhelming victory of William T. Dwyer.

It was Taylorama time again, with Fred scoring four touchdowns. Quarterback Steve Smith got in the end zone three times, himself, first on a 65-yard pass interception and runback, then on a 23-yard run, both in the second quarter.

Smith got in again in the third quarter when he ran a kickoff return for 85 yards.

Reidel Anthony had two scores, the first on an 18-yard first-quarter pass from QB Smith and then on a 70-yard punt return in the second quarter.

Jajuan Seider scored on a one-yard run in the third quarter.

Francine Grand-Pierre was six of seven for PAT kicks.

The Raiders go to 6-1 with the win.

JV - Everybody plays

Late in the fourth quarter coach Thomas Dawkins asked his junior varsity Raiders "Is there anybody who hasn't played yet?"

Glades Central had Clewiston down 42-6, and the coach didn't want to overdo it.

The score was 20-0 at the half, and Clewiston didn't get on the board until 6:17 left in the third quarter.

The win brings the JV Raiders' season to a close with a record of six wins and one loss.

Immakalee beat them 14-8. Dawkins thanked his "great" coaching staff, especially defensive coordinator Jerome Powell and coach Preston Vickers.

"They're volunteers. They're great guys. Vickers works two jobs and comes out every day and gives us three or four more hours."

"It's been a great season."

A little late, but...Laura Shiver, Lady Crusader volleyballist, goes up a second too late to block this shot last Wednesday.

The afternoon saw some of the Glades area's best volleyball matches as Glades Day School and Christian Day School battled it out at the Crusader's gym.

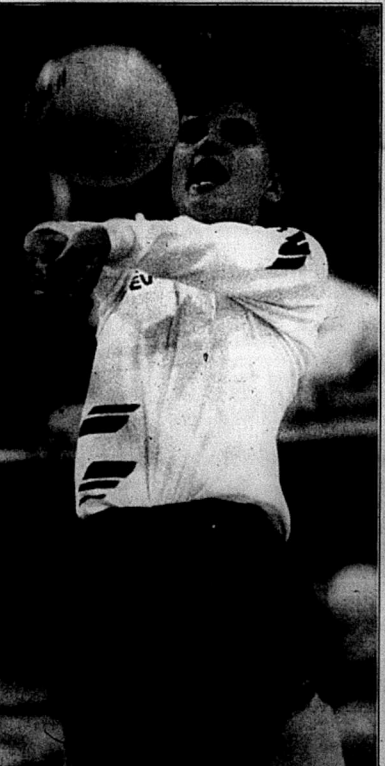

The junior high teams played a spectacular second and third game, and though the score was lopsided for the third game, it was quite a battle. Glades Day won the first game 15-4, and the Crusaders won the next two, 15-13, and 15-3.

For Glades Day, Alicia Schaper and Michelle Herring were named outstanding players, and Ashley Cunningham and Ashley Meadows were outstanding for Christian Day.

In the JV games, Christian Day won again, 15-8, and 15-13. Glades Day won the varsity games 15-12 and 15-11.

The varsity girls from both schools are competing in a tournament this week at King's Academy in West Palm Beach. Ms. Shiver, above is one of four JV girls promoted to varsity in time for the tournament.

Pahokee rings LaBelle's, 30-22

For a few minutes in the second and third quarters it looked like the Blue Devils might go home beaten again, but two Andre Taylor touchdown runs in the second half put the game back in the win column for Pahokee.

LaBelle's Cowboys were ahead 22-20 at the half, but failed to score in either of the two remaining periods.

Taylor had three TDs altogether, with a first-quarter 15-yard run starting the scoring for the evening.

Andre Johnson ran a Cowboy kickoff back 85 yards for a score, and quarterback Terry Barber carried from the one-yard line for another TD.

Christians lose, beaten by Lions

Keith Hilyer caught a 20-yard touchdown pass to put the Crusaders on the board Friday night, but that's all they got.

King's Academy's Lions held Christian Day to 108 yards on the ground and 87 in the air. The Lions rushed for 238 yards and had 129 in the air.

Cheerleaders...Though not exactly members of the cheerleading team, these three are waving pom-poms, hootin' & hollerin', and helping the Glades Central JV football team to another win Friday night. They have names, and these would be them: Quatesia Sanford, 6, Lonesha Stewart, 5, and Latesha Stewart, 2 (with pom-pom).

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the apical segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Gator Tales

Homecoming Queen
Glades Day School congratulates senior Amy Prescott, who was crowned 1992 Homecoming Queen during last Friday's game against Ft. Lauderdale Westminster Academy.

Amy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prescott of Belle Glade, is captain of the varsity football cheerleaders and a member of the yearbook staff, Gator Glee Club and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Voted Best All Around Senior Girl by her peers, she is also dually enrolled at Palm Beach Community College.

This year's homecoming theme was "Haunted Homecoming II: The Sequel," and students in grades 7 - 12 came up with some ghostly ideas for the parade float competition. The Class of '96 took top honors among grades 10 - 12 with "Gator Cemetery," complete with the Grim Reaper and mourners.

The juniors placed second and seniors third. In grades 7-9, the seventh and eighth graders tied for first place with "The Monster Machine" and "Gators Come Home to Haunt in the Swamp," respectively.

The freshmen's "GDS Massacre" received second.

Back by popular demand, the Gator Growl drew many visitors to the pep rally after Thursday's JV football game against LaBelle.

The band played, the cheerleaders cheered, and the fans yelled. Head coach Mandy Perex introduced the entire football coaching staff and recognized the senior players.

A chili dinner and Halloween dance rounded out the homecoming festivities. Hats off to faculty, students, and parents for their time and efforts to make this a "spirited" homecoming!

Students have this week to settle down seriously in their studies and prepare for the second six weeks final exams next Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. School will be out Wednesday, November 11, in honor of Veterans Day.

Parents note: 1993 Gator yearbooks will go on sale Monday, November 9, for $32 each ($35 for seniors). Anyone who buys a yearbook by Friday, November 13, will be eligible for a prize drawing. Don't be left out in the spring - order yours now! The last day to order yearbooks will be Wednesday, November 18.

Alligator seen at Gove Elementary

Ooooooh...Just put me down for a minute. I'll be good. These children look so good. I promise...But Allie's mouth is taped, and Officer John Farill of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission is holding on pretty tight, we'd say. Officer Farill brought the 43-inch gator to Gove Elementary recently for a short visit. Allie behaved herself (???) and was seen by about 350 little people. Several of them were photographed with Allie and Officer Farill. They are, Jennifer Cooper, Eduardo Lopez, Britta Wilson, Henrietta Carrington, Zane Mungillo, and Jeffrey Woodson. That's Mrs. Natalie Hernandez, kindergarten teacher, behind the youngsters.

An alligator showed up at Gove Elementary School last Wednesday, but it didn't cause any trouble. No trappers were called, nobody was injured.

"Allie", along with Officer John Farill of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, dropped by for a visit.

Allie is a small (about 43") American Alligator who was unlucky, but lucky. He (she?) wandered into a swimming pool or hot tub in Royal Palm Beach and was arrested by the local gendarmes. That's the unlucky part.

Luckily he/she was too small to interest a trapper and was turned over to Officer Farill for relocation.

Lucky for Officer Farill, too, as he had just been asked to visit Gove. Oh, and if you happen to have a gator, bring it along, too.

Zane Mungillo, who is in Mrs.

Hernandez's kindergarten class, came up with the idea to name the gator "Allie". Officer Farill agreed that was a wonderful name.

Allie and Officer Farill visited about 350 youngsters in ten classes, including pre-K, kindergarten, and ESE (Exceptional Student Education), talking about the importance of protecting wildlife. The pair gave everybody a hands-on nature experience in a safe learning environment.

Officer Farill will be back during Career Week in late February, along with other officers and some fancy equipment and - yes - another gator.

The officers will show and tell the students about life as a wildlife officer and other careers available with the FGFWFC.

Officer Farill says "We'll put on quite a show."
